[263] J. A. Stankovic. Misconceptions about real-time computing — A serious problem for next-generation systems. Computer, 21(10):10–19, October 1988. CODEN CPTRB4. ISSN 0018-9162 (print), 1558-0814 (electronic). Comment 1 by schlenk, Mon Dec 12 13:13:04 1988 An interesting outlook on real-time systems that are integrated into a programming environment is given. The author shows why ADA tasks are not sufficient (a high priority task has to wait for a lower priority task) and suggests an integrated approach: Time management on the language level, schedulability check and support for distributed programs.

The authors survey the classical hashing function approach to information retrieval and show how general hashing techniques exchange speed for memory. It is a tutorial paper that covers, among other topics, dynamic and static hash tables, perfect hashing, and minimal perfect hashing.
